date, without supervision. The fellow will not agree to an evening at home. What is your opinion? —NOT SURE

Dear Not Sure: If the fellow was on the square, he would be happy to accept the dinner invitation and spend the evening at your home.

The fact that he is not interested in such an evening suggests (and strongly) that your mother is right.

Dear Ann Landers: When a couple gets married is the bride supposed to leave her glove on when the groom places the ring on her finger? Is seems clumsy to pull off a glove at the altar, especially one of those very long ones that goes with a strapless floor-length gown. Am I right? —MARGE

Dear Marge: Plain, ordinary good sense ought to tell you that a ring placed over a glove makes no sense. A ring which fits your finger would never go on over your glove.

A bride should not be wearing a strapless gown. The traditional bridal gown has long sleeves, (summer and winter) and usually the bride is ungloved. If she wishes to wear long gloves, she should select those with three or more buttons at the wrist so she can conveniently slip out her hand and avoid peeling off 18 inches of glove.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 30 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright 1961, Field Enterprises, Inc.
